

The traditional ouzo Karonis distill machine

What are the products we produce?

At the Karonis Distillery, we craft all our products from the very first stage, without adding any artificial aromas or colorants.

- Our ouzo is 100% distilled and carries the protected geographical indication "Ouzo of Nafplio."
- Our oldest traditional spirit is tsipouro, a premium distillate made from grape pomace of local varieties.
- You can also enjoy aged spirits (brandy), fruit distillates, and our unique liqueurs – with our mastiha liqueur being the first to receive an award back in 1889.

About us

We are a family-owned distillery founded in 1869 in Nafplio, the first capital of Greece. We produce ouzo, tsipouro, brandy, and liqueurs. Visitors can enjoy guided tours and tastings on our premises, which also house the distillery's museum.

For the best possible experience, please make a reservation in advance.

How much do you know about the OUZO production?

History

The Karonis Distillery began in 1869, founded by Giannis and Vasilis Karonis.

Traditional producers of tsipouro and ouzo originating from Arcadia, they initially established a small production unit near the port, which at the time was one of the most commercially active ports in Greece.

The idea proved successful, and soon after the venture expanded. In 1881, they built a larger, state-of-the-art distillery – one of the first in modern Greece. They also began producing additional products such as brandy, liqueurs, and wine.

The business has operated continuously, without interruption, from then until today.

The tour at the Karonis Distillery

The experience begins in the museum area of the distillery, where you have the opportunity to see machinery, documents, photographs, and more from the company's rich historical archive.

“An experience you’ll never forget! Discover our history, learn about our production methods, and taste the unique products of the Karonis Distillery.”

Distillation – the art of crafting our spirits

Next, you will be guided through the production area, where – standing before the copper stills – you will learn in detail about the process behind our distillates!!!

Xenia & Giannis Karonis, 5th generation owners of Karonis Distillery

The current owners, Xenia & Giannis Karonis, will be delighted to guide you through a tasting of the spirits and liqueurs we produce, held in the dedicated tasting area next to the distillery.
